Conservation Commission Special Meeting Guilford Community Church (Bee Barn Road, Algiers)

November 17, 2016, 5:30 pm

Instead of our usual meeting on November 17, Guilford Conservation Commission is hosting a special joint meeting of regional Conservation Commissions. We periodically meet together to share projects, questions, and planning. All are welcome to attend.

Time: 5:30 for pot luck; 6:30 for presentation, followed by general discussion

Where: Guilford Community Church, Bee Barn Road (off Rt 5 behind Guilford Country Store)

What: Joan Weir and Jeff Nugent will offer a short program/presentation

Learn about a conservation mapping effort and provide input to us!

Joan Weir, Southeast Regional Director of the Vermont Land Trust and Jeff Nugent, Senior GIS Planner of the Windham Regional Commission will provide an overview of a mapping effort that uses climate resilience science to identify conservation priorities in our region. They will present some preliminary results and would like initial impressions from conservation commission members, and ideas for working with them on this project in the future. On hand will also be general information on land conservation tools and techniques.

Following the presentation, each conservation-focused group can report on their current projects.
